MANHOOD

IN THE

YOUNG AND RISING GENERATION.

The vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves, no repose of manner, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES—SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this same result occurred to two patients. Reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the

It is believed that the advantages now presented at this Institution to students who wish to pursue a partial or complete course of study are unsurpassed by any of its class in the State. The Teachers are experienced and efficient, and spare no pains to render the Instruction thorough in their respective departments.

The Boarding Halls are heated throughout by steam, and Hersey Hall (recently erected, and exclusively for young ladies) is provided with all modern conveniences.

The several courses of study have been arranged with great care, to meet the wants of all classes of students. The common English branches as well as the higher English and Classical, receive careful attention.

Good Philosophical and Chemical Apparatus, together with a large Cabinet of minerals, enable the students in Natural Science to have the subjects discussed amply illustrated by experiments. A Normal Class, under the instruction of the Principal is organized for the benefit of those desiring to teach. Special facilities are afforded to students in Music, Drawing, and Painting. Board, including fuel and lights, is $3.50 per week. Tuition, for fourteen weeks, ranges from $5.50 to $8.50. Good accommodations are provided for those desirous of self-boarding.

The Spring Term of 14 weeks will begin

Monday, March 11th.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

Issue $18,500 per mile,

ON A FINISHED ROAD.

THE LEADING POINTS IN RELATION TO THESE BONDS ARE AS FOLLOWS:

1st. The Stockholders have built a first-class road, and equipped it in a first-class manner.

2d. They have built their road through one of the richest portions of the State, where all the old roads into Chicago are earning over $10,000 per mile per annum, and are paying large and regular dividends.

3d. They have built the shortest road to the celebrated Block Coal Mines, whose products have a large and increasing market in Chicago, in the manufacture of iron, as well as for domestic uses.

4th. The road is done, well equipped, and doing a large business.

5th. The portion of the road opened for business last year, earned more than 50 per cent. net above its interest liabilities.

6th. The amount of the mortgage is very moderate, being only about $18,500 per mile.

7th. While Railroad Bonds may be plenty, those upon finished paying lines, and for so small a sum, are seldom in the market.

8th. That as the amount remaining unsold is less than $1,000,000, parties who want them should make immediate application.

The Bonds are for $1,000 each, have forty years to run, and bear interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable on the first of April and October, both principal and interest being payable in gold in New York.

We do not hesitate to recommend these Bonds as unusually safe. They are attended with none of the uncertainties of projected enterprises, and the prompt payment of the interest, and the final payment of the principal, are as certain as any future financial event can well be. We are selling them daily to the most careful investors.

THREE ADMINISTRATIONS BUCHANAN JOHNSON AND GRANT

The contest in New Hampshire has served a good purpose in bringing to light the real nature of the present Administration as compared with previous Administrations. A FLANK MOVEMENT IN THE SENATE. The Boston Journal's Washington special says Mr Lynch's resolution which passed the House Monday without a dissenting voice directing the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department to investigate the sale of ordnance during the Franco-German war, is a flank movement in the Senate and the latter need not waste so much time now in the discussion of Mr Sumner's resolution. It is very clear that Mr Lynch is not afraid of a most thorough and searching inquiry, because the committee has not only been authorized to send for persons and papers, but it is also directed to make the investigation in public. The committee is composed of Messrs. Williams of Indiana, Barber of Wisconsin, Snyder of Arkansas, Acker of Pennsylvania, and Meredith of New York.

LETTER FROM AUGUSTA

Augusta, Feb 27, 1872

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

The Peck pardon case has been disposed of as already reported, the Bath and Portland Railroad charter lies dead for the session between the two branches, and yesterday the House passed the appropriation of $11,000 for expenses of Swedish immigration. This is probably the last sum the State will be called upon to pay for the Swedes, as hereafter they are expected to take care of themselves

The bill incorporating the State Industrial School for girls, without an appropriation, has to be engrossed without opposition. The resolve appropriating $10 000 when individuals shall pay $30 000, was first amended by striking out thirty and inserting ten, and by striking out ten and inserting five, and then definitely postponed by a very large majority After a brief discussion it seemed to be the general impression that at the present time there is no general demand for such an institution, and that there is no such necessity in this case as will warrant the required expenditure

In the House yesterday there was a general slaughter upon the Academy and High School appropriations pending before that body All the bills were up and debated, some of them with a good deal of vigor and earnestness by their friends but they were all defeated by large majorities except a single appropriation of $1 merick of $600 in consideration of the destruction of their Academy by fire

The annual appropriation of $5,000 for the Maine Indian schools was yesterday strongly urged in the House but was finally passed by the House to-day refused to reconsider

The House disposed of a number of resolves appropriating money for various purposes yearly all of which were indefinitely postponed The resolve for and authorizing a ferry between the Androscoggin and Lisbon was an exception it being the only one of the great mass put before the House to be voted down all the Academy and High School appropriations including the Limerick Academy bill which the House passed

The several committees in both branches of the Legislature in which individual members have a special interest and the business that will legislation to a greater or less extent will be the result of the hurly-burly of the last days of the session

THE NEW WAREHOUSE SYSTEM IN NEW YORK. The plan of Collector Arthur for enforcing the General Order abuses of the New York Custom House and which has been approved by the President and Secretary Boutwell is substantially as follows —

To Collect all [illegible] the water front of the city into districts, making four or more up in the North River and two upon the East river and to designate one warehouse or class of each district to which all goods entered under general order from vessels within the district shall be sent All goods designated 28 or more similar warehouses in Brooklyn and one at Hunter's Point, to which the several steamship companies and any class store located in the district which the ships find as a warehouse for the [illegible] of unclaimed goods arriving by any vessel, subject however to the single condition that neither the steamship company nor any person connected with it shall have any interest in or control over the warehouse so designated The Collector says but by this system, warehouses in all cases will be provided within a short distance of the docks for handling goods, expense of cartage will be avoided all danger of crowding will be avoided and the wishes of steamship companies will be consulted so far as is consistent with the interests of the government by the reforms [illegible] ed in the management of our custom [illegible] fairs —Chicago Journal

M SUMNER POSITION Mr Bowen, of the New York Independent, has given the substance of his recent interview with Senator Sumner which, as we have heretofore said has been so greatly misrepresented — Mr Bowen says the interview was a pleasant one Mr Sumner expressed himself as opposed to General Grant's renomination, but at the same time expressed no disposition to oppose the Republican party He did say that he would oppose the ticket with Senator Wilson's name, or any other one attached to it as the candidate for Vice President He also referred to General Grant in the most kind and complimentary terms, and in favor of any good Republican ticket with General Grant's name left off

Sir Alexander Cockburn the Lord Chief Justice of England who is the arbitrator on the part of Great Britain at Geneva, is said to be in the first discovery of the so-called "table feature in the case" of the United States which neither Lord Tenterden nor Sir Roundell Palmer had regarded improper while they began to prepare their reply The foreign members of the tribunal of arbitration are not regarded as first-class jurists and the representative of Great Britain evidently hesitated about taking the responsibility of a defeat of his case

A Washington correspondent describes Judge David Davis, who has just expressed his willingness to be rotated from the Supreme Court to the White House as "a large framed, portly genial gentleman, nearly fifty seven years of age He was born in Maryland graduated in Ohio, studied law in Massachusetts, and then went to Illinois, where for years he rode the Circuit with Abraham Lincoln, who evinced his friendship for him by making him his executor. He is one of the few remaining old school gentlemen here fond of a good dinner and a good story, and unpretending in his manner of living, although he is a millionaire"

Gen Thomas M Browne, the Republican candidate for Governor of Indiana, has a splendid record as a soldier He resigned his seat in the State Senate in 1862, and enlisted as a private soldier in the Union army When he left the service at the close of the rebellion he had attained the rank of brevet Brigadier General. In 1869 President Grant appointed him United States Attorney for the Indiana District, which position he has filled with marked ability and success until the present time. The Indianapolis Journal says "He possesses in full measure all those qualities that will inspire the enthusiastic support of the masses, and give dignity to the high office for which he has been named."

To-day and [illegible] have been the coldest and [illegible] of the winter.

[illegible] CANAL.

A resolve [illegible] our delegation in Congress to urge the necessity of aiding the construction of the Niagara Ship Canal, to open a commercial thoroughfare from the West to the Atlantic [illegible].

"RUSHING THINGS."

The House this afternoon has done a rushing business. Acts and Resolves were indefinitely postponed [illegible] the members were aware [illegible] was going on. This rushing style of [illegible] matters of importance, is hardly excusable after wasting so much time over a few measures.

NOTHING FOR EXETER.

Resolve in aid of Exeter High School was indefinitely postponed, notwithstanding a telling and plucky little speech in its favor by the "Bard of Exeter."

THE NORTHERN AROOSTOOK.

The act authorizing Bangor to aid in the construction of the Northern Aroostook railroad passed to be enacted in the House.

SENSIBLE IN TIME.

The Somerset shire town matter came up and an amendment was adopted which retains the Court House at Norridgewock until November when the matter will be submitted to the people.

BLOCKED.

The House adhered to its former vote passing the general railroad law and the Senate refused to concur, so [illegible] dead between the two branches.

CIDER PROHIBITED.

The discussion on the "Cider Clause," so called, to the prohibitory law, caused a flittering in the House, but after a sharp discussion passed to be engrossed, 62 to 45. Mr. Brown of Bangor, made a solid, manly speech in its favor. Pike of Calais voted against it. The Democrats squarely opposed it, and Wilson of Thomaston made a speech against the bill.

THE SHERIFF ACT.

On the bill of this the Sheriff [illegible] act was taken up and passed to be engrossed by a vote of 72 to 44, after a lively discussion.

HURLY BURLY.

The Savings Bank bill was the last matter before the House before adjournment. It was discussed amid a hurly burly of words, motions, amendments, &c., and [illegible] the House adjourned.

AUGUSTA, Feb. 27.

Final adjournment is much talked of but does not draw near rapidly.

THIRTY BILLS

passed to be enacted in the House and Senate to-day [illegible] also charter resolves.

THE HOUSE,

under the lead of the member from Whitefield, has a summary way of disposing of appropriations by an indefinite postponement, especially [illegible] this—the case of the grant of [illegible] to-wards [illegible].

THE GENERAL RAILROAD [illegible]

received its final burial to-day, though the Senate gave it a mortal wound several days.

COUNTY SUPERVISORS.

A reaction in favor of County Supervisors is taking place, but it is very doubtful if the system is [illegible], unless it be by a veto of the repealing act.

THE CONGRESSIONAL APPORTIONMENT

bill came up in the Senate to-day and was amended so as to leave the districts as at present constituted. [illegible] defeats a little game of the recent [illegible] the 5th District.

in favor of the city of Bangor [illegible] certain moneys paid to the [illegible] Hospital came up in the Senate.

This afternoon Mr. Foster of [illegible] discussed the merits of the [illegible] refuted certain imputations [illegible] by the Senators, [illegible] passed all the public lands [illegible] by the State.

A CONFLAGRATION AVERTED.

THOMASTON, Feb. 27.

About half past [illegible] o'clock this forenoon, flames and smoke were seen issuing from a building adjoining the office of Hon. Edmund Wilson, and occupied as a dwelling house and bake shop. But for the timely discovery and the promptitude with which the fire engines were on the spot, a most disastrous conflagration must have followed as the wind was blowing furiously and directly towards Mr. Wilson's office, the new Congregational church and a number of fine residences on Main street. The building was but little damaged.

RAILWAY DISASTER.

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 27.

The night passenger train on the Grand Trunk Railway was thrown from the track by snow near [illegible] last night, and the engine and a Pullman car tipped over. None of the passengers were much hurt.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

FROM NEW YORK.

New York, Feb. 27. The Judiciary Committee adjourned the examination of the charges against Judges Barnard and Cardozo last night till Monday next.

CRIME IN NEW JERSEY.

Three ruffians entered the jewellers store of Geo. H. Bannister, Broad street, Newark, fatally beat him and smashed his show cases, decamping with $1,000 worth of jewelry.

A citizen was garroted in Commerce street the same day last evening, and several residences are reported to have been burglarized.

At Newark [illegible] J., yesterday, Robert P. [illegible] of Pennsylvania was held in the sum of $300 on charge of attempting to bribe a [illegible] stor.

CO SCIENCE IN GOTHAM.

Adam Engel yesterday requested the Comptroller to strike his name from the payroll of assistant clerks of the Assistant Board of Aldermen—the new reform board—as he was not desirous of drawing $2,500 a year without earning it.

GENERAL ORDER CHARGES.

The committee appointed on behalf of the Custom House have prepared a tariff of General Order charges which are to be presented to the Chamber of Commerce with the view of securing their adoption.

CHARGES OF CRUELTY.

P. Donagher, a marine on the U. S. frigate Guerriere at Norfolk, writes that for exposing the frauds of Sergeant Bamberg he was confined 30 days on bare boards on deck, and 30 days solitary confinement on bread and water and in double irons, and was otherwise brutally treated.

HALL'S JURY.

The drawing and trying of jurors to to-try Mayor Hall is progressing. Up to one o'clock the fourth had been obtained.

The case of Mayor Hall was finally adjourned till to-morrow, the Jury being incomplete.

A BANKER'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Legrand Lockwood took place this morning and was attended by a large concourse of bankers and prominent citizens.

NEW HEALTH OFFICER.

Gov. Hoffman to day nominated Dr. Vanderpool as health officer of New York, Dr. [illegible] term of office having expired.

THE STOKES CASE.

The trial for a jury in the Stokes case was re-commenced to-day.

Judge Cardozo having refused to admit questions put to A. T. Pruyn, one of the grand jurors, "whether Fisk appeared before the Grand Jury, and if the District Attorney opposed the finding of the Grand Jury in that case," exceptions were taken by Stokes counsel.

Mr. Gerry contended that they had a right to show that Fisk, tried to influence the Grand Jury.

Mr. McKeon said that they had a right to show that the Grand Jury was willing to do Fisk's will, and he would not hesitate to say that the District Attorney's office had been used for evil purposes in the matter. He had a right to show that Fisk, with three prostitutes, had made affidavits before the Grand Jury upon which indictments for conspiracy against poor Stokes were found, and asserted that Fisk was living with one of the prostitutes at the time.

Mr. McKeon said that Stokes was the only one who did not know that an indictment for conspiracy had been found against him, and yet it was the general belief that after hearing of such an indictment Stokes had shot Fisk in a fit of passion.

The counsel for Stokes rested their case at 3 p. m; and the evidence for the prosecution will commence to-morrow.

The District Attorney says the case will occupy only a few hours.

SUIT AGAINST NAYLOR & CO.

U. S. District Attorney Davis has commenced a suit against Naylor & Co., of this city, based upon the evidence furnished by Special Treasury agent Frank E. Howe, obtained from the books of that firm, showing that certain invoices were under-valued by them. The suit is brought to recover $200,000 by the government. The District Attorney has given several months time to Naylor & Co. to produce the books from London by which they claimed they would justify their action, but having submitted all the explanations they could, Attorney Davis, deeming them entirely unsatisfactory, has proceeded as above stated. This takes the matter entirely out of the hands of special agent Howe, and is a complete vindication of his prompt action in the matter.

CONTEMPT OF BARNARD.

Geo. S. Stillman, a lawyer, was fined $75 to-day by Judge Barnard for contempt of court in that he told Barnard he did not believe there was any justice to be obtained in that court.

BANK SMITH,

President of the Bowling Green Savings Bank, has been indicted, but it is understood it will be compromised with the depositors to prevent his arrest.

IN GENERAL.

The Board of Assistant Aldermen yesterday voted in favor of limiting the city advertisements to a few papers.

A dispatch from Albany says the New York City Charter of the Committee of 70, passed the Assembly to-night, 70 to 28.

FROM WASHINGTON.

FINANCE AND ART.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. The committee on [illegible] have agreed to report a bill to admit free of duty paintings, statuary, photographs, etc., designed for exhibition only.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has asked Congress for an appropriation to pay the expenses of the removal of the Cherokee Indians remaining in North Carolina and the [illegible] States, to the Cherokee nation.

THE TARIFF.

The ways and means committee discussed the lumber interests without coming to any conclusion to-day. [illegible] will probably be left at the present duty.

SOUTH CAROLINA

THE LEGISLATURE.

NEW YORK, Feb 27. A Columbia, S. C., dispatch states yesterday morning the House voted to strike out the enacting clause of the [illegible] providing for the payment of the past due interest on the State debt. The Ways and Means Committee reported last evening unfavorably on the bill validating several issues of State bonds, some of which are said to have been illegally issued. The bill granting State aid to the Blue Ridge Railroad to the extent of $2,000,000, has passed the House and it is expected will pass the Senate to-day. The demand of the Union Trust Company for compounding the State debt has been raised from 50 to 75 cents, which precludes any possibility of effecting the negotiations.

RAILROAD BONDS.

COLUMBIA, Feb 27. A bill has passed the Legislature to cancel $4,000,000 of the Blue Ridge Railroad bonds, endorsed by the State.

STATE BONDS.

There is now little doubt that the bill declaring valid all issues of South Carolina bonds will pass by a large majority.

FORTY-SECOND CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.

Mr. Anthony presented a memorial from the American Peace Society and a petition signed by 12,000 citizens in favor of arbitration as the means of settling international disputes. He expressed gratification at being selected to present so important a document.

A bill for the relief of the Postmaster of Chicago was passed.

Mr. Conkling called up his resolution requesting the President to send to the Senate a statement of the recommendations for appointments to office made by Senators from New York, Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska and South Carolina.

Mr. Ferry regretted to see this resolution before the Senate. Its adoption would serve no public but only personal interests. The Senate had already wasted nearly two weeks in a discussion turning almost entirely upon the personal question whether or not the general government is to be renominated.

After debate the bill went over till to-morrow. The French arms bill then came up.

Mr. Morton said he hoped the Senate would sit it out all day.

Mr. Wright of Iowa said the greater part of the session thus far had been spent in political debate.

Mr. Wright then took the floor and proceeded to give reasons why he would not vote for amnesty either general or universal.

Mr. Sumner obtained the floor for the purpose of reviewing the whole question, but said he would prefer not to proceed to-day and moved to adjourn, and the Senate without a vote adjourned.

HOUSE.

Several petitions were presented and referred.

A resolution was adopted instructing the Ways and Means Committee to enquire into the expediency of abolishing all taxes on legacies and successions made or occurring previous to October 1st, 1870.

Mr. Merriam of N. Y., from the Financial Committee, reported a bill to facilitate bank clearing house exchanges. It authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to receive United States notes on deposit without interest from the national banks of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati, in sums of not less than $10,000 and to issue certificates therefor in denominations of not less than $5,000, payable on demand in United States notes at the place where deposits therefor are made; such certificates to be held and counted by the banks as a part of their legal reserve and to be used in the settlement of their clearing house balances. The bill is not to be construed as authorizing any expansion or contraction of currency. After an explanation the bill went over until to-morrow.

The Senate amendment to the House bill authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Missouri river at St. Joseph was concurred in.

The Senate amendment to the House bill allowing the transportation of goods in bond was non-concurred in and ordered to the Committee on Conference.

The Senate amendment to the House bill for the survey of the harbor and river at Washington, D. C., was concurred in.

The Senate bill extending the time for the completion of the Green Bay and Sturgeon Bay and Lake Michigan Ship Canal was passed.

The Senate bill setting apart the Yellowstone Valley in Montana and Wyoming Territories as a National park, was passed 114 to 65.

Mr. Garrett asked leave to offer a preamble and resolution looking to the pacification and annexation of Mexico.

Mr. Pierce of Mississippi objected.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Scofield in the chair on the deficiency bill. The clause repealing the law for the publication of statutes in newspapers was struck out on a point of order as being independent legislation.

Without action the House adjourned.

MISCELLANEOUS.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 26. Max Klinger, the boy who killed his uncle four years ago, has again been reprieved till the 1st of May.

The British Thanksgiving!

IMPOSING CEREMONIES IN LONDON!

MILLIONS GREETING THE ROYAL PROCESSION.

Immense Concourse at St. Paul's!

GRAND ILLUMINATION OF THE CITY!

THE NATIONAL THANKSGIVING.

LONDON, Feb. 27,—10 A. M. The day of thanksgiving for the recovery of the Prince of Wales opened with salutes and the ringing of the bells at sunrise. From an early hour the streets through which the procession is to pass were cleared of vehicles and pedestrians.

THE LINE OF MARCH

to and from the Cathedral is seven miles. The carriage-way along the entire route is fenced in, and uninterrupted from curb to curb.

SUPERB DECORATIONS.

The houses on both sides are decorated from cellar to attic, not house by house, but block by block, and all the open spaces filled with banks of seats. An avenue of flags, streamers and gorgeous tapestry winds miles through the heart of the city, passing under superb and costly triumphal arches.

MILLIONS OF SPECTATORS.

Every available place is occupied by spectators, who are numbered by millions. Fabulous prices are given for single seats, and houses are let for to-day at their rent for a year. Twelve thousand soldiers and almost the entire police force guard the lines.

THE INTERIOR OF ST. PAUL'S.

The decorators had barely finished their work when the general public holding tickets were admitted to St. Paul's. The transformation which had been made in the interior of the Cathedral caused universal surprise and admiration. The decorations were superb, and the arrangement of the throne, the galleries and seats for the public was such as to afford a favorable view to all and at the same time display the great mass of people to the best advantage.

AN AUDIENCE OF 14,000.

It is estimated that 14,000 are seated within the Cathedral, while thousands upon thousands on the outside are within hearing of the music.

THE ROYAL PROCESSION.

Noon.—The Royal procession is in motion. The thunder of guns, the ringing of bells, and the cheering all along the line of march, announce that the Queen has left the palace.

LEAVING THE PALACE.

bodies of the Kingdom were represented, and all the finest regiments of the army furnished detachments.

THE QUEEN'S CARRIAGE was preceded by the Royal household and members of the Royal family, including the Dukes of Edinburgh, Princes Arthur and Leopold, and the Prince and Princess of Wales.

THE PRINCE OF WALES

looked thinner and paler than when last seen in public, but he appeared much stronger than was expected. As the Prince and Princess came in sight, the immense assemblage of spectators began to cheer, and the cheering increased to a mighty roar.

CHEERS FOR THE QUEEN.

As the Queen, whose carriage followed, came in view, the cheering and shouting was taken up all along the line as the procession slowly moved on.

THE KEYS OF LONDON.

At Temple Bar the Queen received the keys of the city from the Lord Mayor and Corporation. The rest of the journey to the doors of the Cathedral was one continued ovation.

THE QUEEN'S RECEPTION.

Four P. M.—The Queen arrived at the Cathedral between 1 and 2 o'clock. The entire assemblage rose as she entered, and remained standing until she took her seat on the throne. The Peers were on the right of the throne, the members of the Commons on the left.

A "TE DEUM"

was sung by a monster chorus of picked voices, after which the Archbishop of Canterbury delivered a sermon.

THE RETURN FROM ST. PAUL'S.

Five P. M.—At the conclusion of the services in St. Paul's, the procession reformed and returned to Buckingham Palace. The enthusiastic demonstrations of loyalty were renewed along the route and did not cease until the carriages of the Royal family passed through the gate of Buckingham Palace.

A SPLENDID SUCCESS.

The weather was brilliantly fine throughout the day, and the celebration was a complete success. On the return from the Cathedral, the Prince of Wales occupied the carriage with the Queen.

A GENERAL HOLIDAY.

The day is observed as a legal holiday throughout the United Kingdom. Dispatches from the principal cities of England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales report that the thanksgiving services are on a scale commensurate with their wealth and population. In many of them there were processions and religious exercises similar to those in the metropolis. In the smaller towns, villages and hamlets the day is being celebrated by appropriate festivities.

IN IRELAND,

special prayers will be offered in all the churches, by order of the Bishop of the Irish Church. In Dublin a Te Deum was sung at St. Patrick's Cathedral, and the Castle and portions of the city will be illuminated tonight.

A GRAND ILLUMINATION.

Six P. M.—Great preparations have been made for an illumination of the western front of the entire dome of St. Paul's to-night with ship lanterns and lime lights. The Bank of England, club houses, all public buildings and appointment stores will be illuminated, and thousands of private dwellings and stores are making similar preparations. The streets through which the procession passed, will be festooned with parti-colored lanterns along the entire route.

WILFUL MURDER.

Minor, the American who murdered a workingman of this city on the night of the 17th, has been committed to jail to await trial on the charge of wilful murder.

ALMOST A FIRE. The house of Mr. Dearborn Chase, on State street near the cemetery, had a narrow escape from being destroyed by fire on Monday. A stove-pipe passing up through the second floor was put through a plate of tin to prevent contact with the woodwork, and the dust and lint gathered on the tin became ignited, setting fire to the floor and filling the upper part of the house with smoke. Luckily the fire was discovered and extinguished before it had gained much headway or done much damage.

NARROW ESCAPE. Yesterday morning as the Pullman train from Boston was backing out of the Maine Central depot, after landing its passengers and baggage, a little Irish boy, seven or eight years old, ran along in sport beside one of the passenger cars, keeping his hand on the side of the car. He had gone but a short distance when he slipped and fell on the ice, his legs going across the rail just behind one of the car-trucks. It seemed for a moment that he must inevitably have his legs mangled by the other set of wheels on the car, but the little fellow, with wonderful presence of mind, somehow pulled himself out of the way just in season, and lay flat beside the track until the train had passed.

SOCIABLE. Mr. Editor:—The lady students of the Bucksport Seminary, availing themselves of Leap Year privileges, held a "sociable" in the chapel on Monday evening. A number of ingenious and well-executed charades, occasional promenades in which the ladies held choice of partners, with a few general and amusing games, comprised the exercises of the evening, the whole being enlivened by frequent songs with pianoforte accompaniment. Refreshments were liberally provided. The spirit of the entertainment throughout bore up well the fully-admitted fact of the superior social qualities and pleasing tact of the fairer sex in general.

HARD WEATHER ON THE E. & N. A. RAILWAY. A terrible snow-storm, accompanied by a heavy gale, prevailed to the north-east of us on Monday, and the wind continued to blow all day yesterday, drifting the great quantity of snow which had fallen.—The passenger train on the E. & N. A. Railway which left this city for St. John Monday morning, was reported last night at a place 24 miles this side of Harvey and about 16 miles beyond McAdam Junction, "stuck" in a drift, and the engine frozen up. Somewhere above this was the train which left St. John for [illegible] yesterday morning, in the same condition as the other, with [illegible] until to-day. The [illegible] which left here yesterday morning, is probably at McAdam or Vanceboro, but the wires were working very badly last night, and we were unable to learn exactly where it was [illegible]. A special train was made up yesterday at Vanceboro' to return to this city for the accommodation of the local traffic.—Neither train on the N. B. & C. road had reached McAdam last night, both being blocked by the snow and the engines frozen up. The latest advices last night, reported snow still falling heavily, the wind blowing a hurricane and the weather frightfully cold, the employes of the roads suffering severely in their battle with the storm.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

FEBRUARY (CRIMINAL) TERM.

Hon. EDWARD KENT, Justice, presiding.
CHARLES P. STETSON, Esq., Co. Attorney.
EZRA C. BRETT, Esq., Clerk.

Tuesday, July 27. The Court came in at 20 minutes past nine and delivered the charge to the jury in the case of State vs. A. T. Spencer. The Judge commenced by remarking upon the length of the trial, the importance of the case and the duty of jury; considered the evidence in relation to the nature of the fire, whether caused by accident or by an incendiary; and charged that if there was evidence satisfying the jury of incendiarism, they were to consider the testimony as to the guilt of the respondent. He remarked upon the nature of doubt in criminal trials, and explained what constituted a reasonable doubt. All high crimes are usually committed secretly, and conclusions must be arrived at from facts and circumstances pointing more or less conclusively to the guilt or innocence of the party accused, and he said that the jury should consider first, what facts are established to their satisfaction bearing upon the case. The solvency or insolvency of the firm of Lowell & Spencer was then considered; if insolvent, defendant was not necessarily guilty, but it is an important fact as furnishing a motive to defendent for committing the crime; next the testimony of David Ames was examined and the Judge said that there was a total denial by defendant of any such interview or conversation as sworn to by Ames, and the jury are to decide between the two. Ames is not impeached; occupies a responsible position, showing confidence in his integrity and faithfulness; yet defendant says his story is so entirely improbable that it is not entitled to belief: it rests with the jury to consider whether the story is incredible under the circumstances; whether Ames had any motive to fabricate a false story, and whether, if Spencer was going to commit this great crime, he would or would not become confused under the fear of detection and try to secure the silence of Ames who had seen him there at that late hour. The Government asks "how did Ames get this information that a fire was to occur?". It is for the jury to consider and decide.

The Judge then considered the evidence in relation to the alibi set up by defendant; recapitulated the positions taken in regard to the testimony, by the counsel on each side; considered good character of defendant, and said it is a fact that should weigh in one's favor in cases of doubt; that it intensifies the presumption of innocence, but that it cannot overcome positive proof.

The charge, which was of marked care and impartiality, occupied about three-quarters of an hour. The case was committed to the jury at a quarter before 11 o'clock A. M., and at half past 3 P. M., the jury came into court unable to agree, and were discharged of the case.

John Fury, a lad of thirteen years, was brought into Court from jail and tried on a complaint made before the Police Court for larceny of two bed quilts from the Mansion House, kept by A. S. Mansell. The Government failing to prove any guilty intent on the part of the lad, he being accompanied by two other boys, one of them the son of the owner, the jury, after an absence of one minute, returned a verdict of not guilty.

SENTENCES.

The following convicts were brought into Court from the jail and received sentence:—

Henry Welch, two years in State prison for breaking into Smith & Campbell's store and stealing seventy pounds of tobacco.

Wm. A. Brown and wife, three years each in State prison for stealing a horse, sleigh robes, &c., of J. B. P. Wheelden.

Daniel E. Hill, convicted of three distinct larcenies this term, was adjudged a common thief and sentenced to six years in State prison.

Wm. Herrin was sentenced to three months in jail for assault on David W. Gould; also to two months more for assault on officer Pratt; also to three months more for assault on officer Clark.

Jerome Worcester of Dexter came into Court and was fined $75 for assault on Frank W. Ladd, which he paid.

SMITH SENTENCED.

Joseph D. Smith, jr., of Veazie, convicted of the murder of Thomas S. Josslyn at Charleston, in September last, was brought into Court to receive sentence of death. He appeared to be somewhat excited and anxious as he entered and took his seat in the prisoner's box. Mr. Stetson, the County Attorney, then addressed the Court as follows:—

May it please the Court:—Joseph D. Smith, Jr., the prisoner at the bar, having been indicted at this term for the wilful murder of Thomas S. Josslyn, and having been after a full and impartial trial, in which he was defended by most able counsel, convicted by the jury of murder in the first degree, it now becomes my duty to move the court that the sentence provided by law be passed upon him.

The prisoner was then asked by the Court if he had anything to say why the sentence of death should not now be passed upon him, whereupon he arose and replied that he had this to say, that he was not guilty of the murder; that he was guilty of robbery only.

The Judge then arose and addressed the prisoner briefly:—

You have been convicted by a jury of your country of your own selection, of murder in the first degree; you have had able counsel to aid you, and the jury have heard the case and have come to their conclusion, and I have no doubt that you are guilty of taking the life of Mr. Josslyn on that night. I will say nothing to harrow up your feelings. If those feelings in your solitary confinement do not bring back the scene, nothing that I could say would add to their force.

I have nothing to say except that your young life is forfeited by the laws. I have no discretion; my duty is to pronounce the sentence of the law, and I only implore that in the hours of your confinement you will turn your thoughts and seek, by repentance, the mercy of your God.

Nothing remains for me but to pronounce the terrible sentence of the law, which I now do, and it is this:—

The Court having considered the offence of which you stand convicted, as punishment therefor do order that you be hanged by the neck until you are dead; and in this behalf you are further sentenced to solitary confinement in the State Prison, situate in Thomaston in the County of Knox, until the punishment just ordered be inflicted upon you, and that you stand committed, until removed in execution of this sentence, to confinement as aforesaid in the State Prison.

There being no other cases for trial, the jury were discharged from further duty, and the Court adjourned to Thursday morning.

Senator Cole [illegible] received a dispatch [illegible]

The Hon. T. A. R. Nelson, who defended Andrew Johnson before the High Court of Impeachment with more vigor than judgment, now exhausts the political vocabulary and the patience of Tennessee in defense of the passive policy and denunciation of President Grant. He is still firm in the conviction that Johnson could have been elected in 1866 if he had been nominated.

On Sunday night, Joe Hodges and George Henderson were arrested at Memphis, Tenn. charged with having murdered two men on a trading boat at Stewart's Landing, Arkansas, some weeks since. After their arrest they both made confession.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. This derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucus and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is Schenck's Mandrake Pills. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor, in the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure, is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regain health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cool and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept in a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the north-east corner of Sixth and Arch streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

It was [illegible] by the cessation of the music, he [illegible] that he felt ex[illegible] thing, he was determined. Amy Turner should notice [illegible] to impute over him. He would [illegible] that he had been [illegible] with her [illegible] with him, and that it was always [illegible] best. With this resolution [illegible] to the supper-room, but could not bring himself to approach where she [illegible] was standing behind her chair. It was not until evening recommenced that he had an opportunity of speaking to her. She was for a moment alone, as Rupert moved [illegible] she saw he was coming to her. A tinge of coldness can [illegible] across her features.

"I have apologized for [illegible] my rudeness," Miss Turner, but I could not help [illegible] given harder and colder than [illegible]. When the train stopped, [illegible] her to alight, as helped the ladies with the [illegible] did so, he could not help saying to Mr. Gaisford:

"We are to meet, it seems, at railroad [illegible]. This has been rather a different ending from our last, Mrs. Gaisford."

She had grown paler again as he spoke, and a faint struggle took place in her face before she gave an answer. Then it was all over came in a rush to her cheeks. In another moment her husband joined her, and they started, the host asking [illegible] dinner at the hotel. Rupert Holmes thought at first of leaving it once; but then he told himself that she would look upon it as another triumph, and he resolved to remain, let it cost what it would. The purpose of delayed going to dinner until [illegible] saw that everyone would be seated, so [illegible] there would be no vacant seat near Mr. Gaisford. In this, however, he was disappointed, as a waiter at once came up to him as he entered, and told him that a seat had been kept for him next to the gentleman who served by the same train. There was no help for him, and he felt as he sat down that perhaps, after all, it was the best place for him, for Miss Turner was sitting next beyond Mr. Gaisford so that he could neither see Amy's face, nor was he bound to exchange any remarks with her; he had plenty of topics of conversation with Mr. Gaisford, who was starting with his wife and brother-in-law for a day or [illegible]

"When do you return?" Mr. Gaisford had asked; and Rupert, glancing down, saw that Mrs. Gaisford had paused in [illegible] to his answer.

"I am going to spend the winter abroad," he said, "I am thinking of going India; indeed, I have a sort of half-intention of joining the Indian Bar, and settling there for good." He looked [illegible] Amy's face, but Mr. Gaisford's face a shadowy smile, gone almost before formed, and followed by a thoughtful look. "I have absolutely exults over it," he said to himself.

After dinner, Mr. Gaisford proposed a stroll by the lake, and after a short delay, while the ladies went up for their bonnets, the party went out together. For awhile they strolled [illegible] gether, looking across the lake, upon which the moon was shining brightly, lighting up the bank covered form of the Right and the snow-crowned peak beyond Mount Blanc. They broke up into pairs. Mrs. Gaisford linked behind a mule, and as at the same time she was speaking to Rupert, he could not but stay with her. He did not know whether he was glad or sorry. He loved her still passionately, though she was false and cruel, and had spoilt his life; he loved her so much as ever, and should do so, he felt, as long as he lived. Mr. Gaisford and Miss Turner stopped and leaned upon the railings on the low wall. Without joining them, Mrs. Gaisford did the same. Rupert could see her face now, for the moon shone clear upon it. She was very thoughtful, earnest and troubled. "How her face belies her!" he thought. "What can she be going to say?" He would not speak first, and there was a silence for a minute or two, till she began.

"You do not look well, Mr. Holmes; have you been ill?"

"A doctor would say no," he said bitterly; "and as he only examines the body he would be right. No, I have had no illness."

"And you really think about living in India?"

"Yes," he said shortly.

There was a pause again, and then she began, this time in lower tones even than before.

"I am going to ask you a strange question, Mr. Holmes. Did you first hear of my—my engagement to Mr. Gaisford that night at the ball?"

"Yes, Mrs. Gaisford, I did," Rupert said coldly.

There was another long pause.

"And if you had not heard it, you would not have gone away so suddenly—that is, it was the knowledge of it that made you part from me so, was it not?"

"Yes, Mrs. Gaisford, it was so. If it is any satisfaction to you to know how thoroughly you succeeded, how entirely and wholly you caused my love, in order to throw it away, know it now from my lips. I loved you with my whole heart. I went to that ball with the intention of asking you to be my wife. I heard the news, but even in the face of such evidence I seemed unquestionably; it was only when I heard him call you Amy that I believed. I had a sharp struggle with myself, Mrs. Gaisford, and I tried hard to cheat you out of the triumph you had so thoroughly gained. I hoped that you might think that I was as heartless a flirt as yourself. Did I succeed?"

There was a slight gesture of assent.

"Then I spoke well," he went on bitterly. "But I give you the triumph now; it is a little delayed, but not the less complete. I loved you with all my heart and soul; you have wrecked my happiness and spoilt my life. You have crushed out all motive for exertion. You have destroyed my faith in woman. I will not spare myself even in one syllable," Mrs. Gaisford, you shall know the whole truth, was so mad, that even when you had done all this to me, when you had so wrecked my life, I could not hate you. I love you now as wildly and passionately as ever. I shall love you so till I die. Are you satisfied now?"

"Yes," she said softly; and then, without another word, she turned away from the lake on which she had looked for the while the had been speaking, and joined the others."

In a minute she spoke gently to her sister and then taking her husband's arm, she said:

"Let us go in now, Robert; it is getting damp."

Rupert Holmes followed with Miss Turner. He did not speak, he could not have spoken for worlds. He knew that his companion once or twice spoke to him, but he did not catch the meaning of her words. Presently he started, for Robert Gaisford burst into a loud laugh. He could be seen shaking at his wife could, never be tempted to tell story to him.' So on he walked with a dull pain to the door of the hotel. Then there was a pause.

"Are you coming in yet?" Mr. Gaisford asked.

No, he should take another turn or two!

Then they must say good-by Mr. Holmes," Miss Turner said, "as we shall be off very early, at 7 o'clock. Good-by. I hope you will think better about going to India."

Mrs. Gaisford did not speak; she gave him her hand, and so they stood for a moment face to face. A wild raging desire to [illegible] her in his arms and kiss her, even with her husband standing by, seized him; and she must have seen it by her dropping his hand suddenly, she turned and ran up the steps into the hotel, followed by her sister.

Rupert Holmes stood motionless looking after her figure, and was only roused by a touch on the shoulder, to the remembrance that Mr. Gaisford was still beside him.

"Shall we smoke a cigar together?" he asked.

"No, No," Rupert said, putting his hand up to his forehead. "Please leave me alone; let me, I want to be alone. Good-by."

He walked on in a half-way carriage, when at one of the stations the door opened, and two ladies and a gentleman entered. It was not until they were seated, and the train was in motion again that he looked up from his book; and he could [illegible] restrain a sharp exclamation when he saw that his companions were Mr. and Mrs. Gaisford and Miss Turner.
